

Army Careers Focus

Are you interested in joining the British Army? Perhaps you should be...

ARMY LIFE

The Army is different from most jobs. The people you work alongside aren't just your colleagues, they're your best mates. And you don't just get brilliant training and support, you get somewhere to call home.

Everybody who joins the Army is first and foremost a soldier. However, the army needs lots of different skills and, like all teams, it works by placing people in positions where they can make the best use of those skills.

COMBAT

Play a central role in major combat operations, but also get involved in peacekeeping and disaster relief.

ENGINEERING

You could find yourself repairing aircraft, building bridges or even setting up electrical supplies.

LOGISTICS & SUPPORT

Help make sure that soldiers have everything they need, when they need it, wherever they are in the world.

MEDICAL

Give vital medical care to soldiers and working animals, anywhere in the world.

INTELLIGENCE, COMMUNICATIONS & IT

When it comes to winning the battle, information, communications and modern IT are vital.

HR, FINANCE & SUPPORT

Could you be one of the human resources, finance, legal and education specialists?

MUSIC

Be the face of the Army on State occasions, or entertain the troops on operations

Remember that most jobs in the army don't need you to already have the qualifications, just the right attitude to learning – everything else will be taught on the job. You can explore more roles here: <https://apply.army.mod.uk/roles>

Army Careers Focus

DID YOU KNOW.....?

There are over 76 roles in the Army and every job offers the opportunity to progress to gain professional skills leading to higher qualifications, including full Bachelors and Masters Degrees. Technical Corps like the Royal Engineers or the Royal Electrical and Mechanical Engineers, will support you in gaining civilian qualifications such as Chartered Engineer status.

There is something for everyone!

WHAT HAPPENS AS A REGULAR SOLDIER?
