Graduate Pastoral Tutor (1 year contract)

£15,000 + accommodation + meals

We have an exciting opportunity for a graduate to live and work in a boys' Boarding House in one of the leading state schools in the country. They will be required to play a full part in the life of the House.

This post will ideally suit a graduate with a good Bachelor's or post-graduate degree, who seeks experience in an educational environment, and who may wish to pursue a career in education or embark in further academic research. Opportunities for academic research or future teacher-training exist with our partner-schools in the Salesian Teaching School Alliance.

Set in a beautiful 45 acre Surrey site, the School enjoys excellent facilities and an aspirational learning environment. Gordon's is recognised by HM Chief Inspector of Schools as one of Britain's finest non-selective schools, with circa 840 pupils including 250 residential boarders and a thriving sixth form. The School is consistently in the top 10% of schools nationally for student progress and each year it is listed amongst the top non-selective schools in England for GCSE and A Level results.

Massively over-subscribed, Gordon's size ensures that every student is well known and nurtured as an individual. The School has a very strong emphasis on academic standards, self-discipline and traditional values and aims to deliver much more than just outstanding examination results, providing abundant opportunities outside the classroom and exceptional pastoral care.
